THANK YOU FOR YOUR RESERVATION,

Hut Based AIARE Level 1 Course:

We will start at 8:30 AM sharp on the first day of the class at our Field Office located at the Upper Three Creek Sno-Park. The group will be shuttled to the backcountry huts by snowmobile. Please arrive dressed to ski, packed and ready to load your equipment on the snowmobiles. Plan to not return to your vehicle until around 4pm on the last day of the course.

Please refer to the list below for what to bring. We suggest you dress very warm with extra layers. You also need to have a Sno-park permit which we can sell to you if needed. If you own any avalanche safety equipment (transceiver, probe, shovel) please bring them so that you can practice skills with your own equipment. If you do not own avalanche equipment we will have some to rent. Please let us know if you need to reserve rental gear (supplies are limited).

This course is a “total immersion” educational course, plan to be learning all the time, during meals, cooking time and while touring. The hut will be your living space and classroom. The kitchen will be equipped with pots, pans, and utensils for cooking as well as dishes for eating. The bunks are padded, please bring your own sleeping bag and pillow. Your food should be packed in durable packaging to be loaded on a snowmobile for the shuttle. No food is provided. Please keep your meals on the simpler side.

Equipment list

Please use this suggested packing list to help you be prepared. If you need to rent avalanche safety gear from us please let us know in advance as supplies are limited.
